BOXING DRAWS CROWDS

The big show is over and Drayton Valley has done itself proud all along the line. There was a holiday air; a carnival, festive feeling hanging over the town from Thursday night on until early Sunday morning. Even late Sunday afternoon some of the visitors were still here: they stated they had enjoyed themselves so thoroughly they hated to leave. Most of these were much traveled folk, who had taken in boxing shows in many parts of the continent; but with the excellent boxing events that they had witnessed here in the Canadian Amateur Boxing Championships over the past weekend had been something else something intangible something indefinable, something that sprang from the heart of the people of Drayton Valley, something of the "Old West" with its sincere and heartfelt hospitality.

They all said "Thank You, Drayton Valley" and to that we add "Drayton Valley we're proud of you" For what the folks of Drayton Valley did, in the magnificent staging of the big national boxing events, and in their deep and sincere hospitality, they did not for Drayton Valley alone, for the benefit of it will go far beyond the confines of this town.

It will enhance Amateur Boxing it will speak for and from the heart of the entire West. People won't soon forget, and the story of what has been done here in Drayton Valley will travel far and wide as when a stone is cast into the surface of a placid pool and the ripples reach out, successively farther, until they have lapped the distant shores.

But if the folks of Drayton Valley did a magnificent job in the staging of this affair, those who took part in the boxing exhibition had an even better performance. No one who saw those boys in action could fail to be impressed with the ideals of sportsmanship that had been instilled into all those who took part in the national events. This certainly was not something that was put on from the outside, it was something that sprang spontaneously from the inside, the result of careful instruction by managers and trainers and coaches of the various clubs represented.

The display of skilled boxing was wonderful, but much more wonderful was the sportsmanship displayed by these lads, who were, for the most part, youngsters. It was as Mayor A. Meier said in one of his speeches:

"We are seeing here boys who are almost greater in defeat than are those in victory... Those boys who don't win the decision have been in these throwing everything they have until the moment the bell rings to end the action, and then they take defeat in true sportsmanship fashion... by sincerely congratulating the winner."

And that was a lesson that we who watched might very well heed, we were all mightily impressed with the sportsmanship bred into these boys, and no one who saw it could help but feel better for the seeing and perhaps to resolve to meet life's defeats more adequately.

Drayton Valley's latest acquisition, her band, under the direction of bandmaster Karl Wahl, added very much to the sophistication of the occasion. People from other places found it hard to believe that this band was playing for their first major function on the night of the boxing. On the opening night, Friday, May 12th, the band played for half an hour before the opening of the events. At 7:30 His Worship the Mayor, A. Meier, of Drayton

BLOOD DONOR CLINIC

The Red Cross Blood Donor Clinic will be in Drayton Valley on Tuesday May 23rd in the Frank Maddock High School Auditorium.

Last September the Clinic was held in the high school auditorium with a quota of about 300 points which was exceeded slightly with a total of 386. In March of last year the quota was not quite met, with only 279 registered to give blood. In the September Blood Clinic the Lions Club won the plaque donated by the A.A.R.N. and will work hard to hold it again this time. Quota for this Clinic is about the same as previously, with a quota of some 300 set for this time. It is hoped, and expected however, that Drayton Valley will go away over the quota. Let's show everyone that we do things in a big way out here and go far over the quota.

Times for the Clinic are 2:00 to 4:00 in the afternoon and 7:00 to 8:00 in the evening.

FISH & GAME ASSOC. MEETING

The Pembina Oilfield Fish and Game Association held a public meeting in the Scotch Hall on Tuesday, May 9th. A good crowd heard President John Reid outline plans for re-organization and growth of the association.

Projects planned for the year were outlined. These included a survey of pothole lakes and suitable creeks in the area with the object of stocking trout in them. The area around Drayton Valley is considered good habitat for pheasants and the feasibility of stocking them here is being considered.

Two films were shown; one on Jasper Park, and the other on Trout fishing.

The subject of the Brazeau Dam Project was discussed. It was stated that at present there are no plans to remove the heavy wood growth from the area to be flooded by the dam. The meeting was told that leaving the trees to be flooded would ruin the water for fish propagation for at least 50 years and for boating for many years to come. Also, the pollution aspect was mentioned. The heavy spruce growth in the area would pollute the water with tannins for years to come. The association's secretary, Dr. J. Woychuk, was instructed to write the proper authorities for further information regarding the Brazeau Dam.

Dr. Woychuk spoke on the importance of a strong Fish and Game club and requested those present to become members. Over 25 new members were signed up.

It was decided to hold the next meeting on June 12th in the Scotch Hall. Suggestions to invite the ladies were met with enthusiasm. The meeting is to be of an informal nature, with discussions and films on outdoor topics.

M. Pollard was no cream-puff pushover for Lindy Lindmeyer in the 178 lb. class in the boxing finals Saturday night, as this picture shows. Pollard is the boxer on the right. The Central Ontario led put up a very game fight right from the start, even though he was very obviously outclassed in the fight by the hardhitting, aggressive B.C. fighter. His seconds threw in the towel to end the fight in the second round.

BOXING DRAWS CROWD

Valley gave the Address of Welcome, followed by the official opening of the event by the Honorable Gordon Taylor, and the big show was on the road.

At this time of writing we do not know just how many persons went through the gates to see the big national event, but the crowd was fairly good on Friday night, not quite so good Saturday afternoon, but there was a real hang-up crowd to see the big show for the finals on Saturday night, it may be a long time before something of this size and national significance comes out way again but we feel that Drayton Valley really rose to the challenge and organized the event down to the nth degree, with the whole affair

Following the invocation given by the Rev. Russell Brown, of All Saints Anglican Church, the guests were seated. Seated at the head table were Mr. and Mrs. Jack Pail, Mayor and Mrs. Adrian Meier, D.V.A.A. IT'S ALL OVER NOW

The Canadian Amateur Boxing Championships of 1961 are in the pages of history. The event which took up five whole months of careful planning, tedious preparation and almost undivided attention has come and gone. From what I can gather this great national sports extravaganza was a tremendous success on every angle. Although figures are not available at this writing the show was a financial success. The caliber of competition was beyond compare. The continuity of the entire program was something phenomenal. Finally everyone, competitors, coaches, trainers, officials and spectators with their experience, all agree that this was one of the best National Tournaments ever presented. A credit to Drayton Valley, the Province of Alberta and the whole of Canada. A great treat in the arm for amateur boxing and every other form of athletics in this country.

Some of the comments of visiting officials and coaches bore witness to the success of the tournament. That grand Old Man of amateur boxing, seventy-eight year old Frank Miles, Secretary-Treasurer of the Alberta Branch of A.A.U. of Canada had this to say "I have been in this boxing game for sixty years as a competitor, a coach and now as an official and this is the best organized tournament that I ever attended. The caliber of fighters was unique, the show was very well handled and the hospitality was something wonderful."

Major Bob of Vancouver, Chairman of the National Boxing Committee had nothing but words of praise which he summed up by saying "This meet, without a doubt, was the finest I have ever seen in amateur sport."

John Smith, senior boxing referee of the Alberta Branch of the A.A.U. of C. made the following statement: "I have been around in every capacity for thirty-five years now and this is the greatest tournament that I have ever seen."

Bert Lowe the B.C. coach, possibly the widest travelled man in amateur boxing today, offered the following words of tribute to Drayton Valley at the post-tournament banquet held in the Elks Community Hall: "I have travelled far and wide in this game, through the United States, Mexico and South America and have attended hundreds of such tournaments but this one is the best I have come across to date." He added "Where amateur boxing carries me in the future rest assured that I will plug Drayton Valley to the limit every chance I get." Bert is heading South, to Mexico City, for an International Tournament later this summer and having come to know Bert especially by youngsters, are aimed at the head and jaw and outstanding body punches are rare indeed. It must be remembered, however, that Lindmoe, first of all, is no longer a green inexperienced kid and secondly that the blonde Austrian has that kind of ability and form which sets him in a class by himself.

Allan Celler who travelled alone some two thousand miles from the Lakehead to Port Arthur, Ont., thought our hospitality was tops and stated that we had a splendid show, the greatest in which he ever participated.

So there you have it folks from East and West; from men throughly experienced in this kind of thing. The verdict was unanimous on approximately one hundred fighters, coaches and officials, one of the greatest tournaments of its kind ever staged in this country. Such an outstanding and successful event was the product of a sustained and united community effort. True, the Drayton Valley Athletic Association was the sponsoring body and the organization responsible to the National Body for the conducting of the Championships, however, the credit cannot go to any particular person or organization; it was a community effort which has seldom been seen in this country in any walk of life. It was the people of Drayton Valley that made this thing the marvelous success that it turned out to be. It was the Town Council, the Service Clubs, the Buffets committees of the Canadian Amateur Boxing Organization and those unselfish and dedicated people who carried out their assignments to the letter and then some. It was a combined and co-operative piece of work which just had to end in a great success story. It was Drayton Valley's success story.

LINDY - A GREAT FIGHTER

What had the pleasure of seeing one of the first-time great amateur boxing in action here last Saturday in the person of Lindy Lindy. Lindy lived up to his marvelous ring record and to all the advance publicity that came our way concerning him. Lindmoe displayed power and class beyond compare as he literally tore Al Brank apart in less than one round, and then went on to score a very easy T.K.O. over Max Pollard of Toronto to cap the Canadian Light Heavyweight Championships. Neither the Fighting Flyer from Cold Lake Alta, nor the Game Toronto scrapper ever had a chance against the pride and joy of Vancouver's South Hill Boxing Club. Against Brank, Lindmoe's Lindy displayed something rather unusual in the ranks of amateur pugilism - a concentrated body attack. As you no doubt remarked, the vast majority of punches thrown by amateur boxers, and province, their city and to amateur athletes in general. I may be really sticking my neck out, however, I will go one step better and pick out the outstanding athlete of the tournament. Once more I will lean in favor of the West coast and make Lindy Lindmoe the man of the hour. I was a play that Jimmie King the colored boy from Kingston the colored boy in a Light Heavyweight division of a Heavy. A not between him and Lindmoe would have been a dilly while it lasted, however, I am of the opinion that Lindy would have still finished out as Dominio Light Heavy Champ without so much trouble.

The Royal Canadian Navy team from H.M.C.S. Stadacona, Halifax, Nova Scotia certainly added a great deal of color to the show. Possibly none of the stars were outstanding figures on the program, however, they all were willing, courageous fighters who fought to the bitter end. They were a typical Navy team. On the other hand they wrote history in Drayton Valley. It was the first time that a group of men walked up and down the mats of this town sporting the royal blue and the ball-topped crowns of the Royal Canadian Navy. The Army had very strong representation on two fronts. The Central Command from Camp Valcartier Quebec turned up with a fine team. It was a play that one Leo McGrath cast a shadow by his superb tactics, however, a team cannot be condemned for the actions of one man. The 3rd Battalion of P.C.L.I., came up with one Champ (Cont., page 8, Col. 1)

SCHULTZ OUTSTANDING

Another Vancouver star who shined brightly throughout the tournament was Winnie Schult. Cool as a cucumber, the tall and graceful Schult stopped the Lakehead fighter, Allan Celler in one round on Friday evening and dropped Drayton Valley's own Rufus Connor in the second heat on Saturday afternoon. Schult fractured a bone in his right hand in the Combe bout, however, he came back to square one at a split decision over Colin Fraser of Toronto to carry away his second straight Dominion Championship. Last year he won the Canadian title in Montreal. Schult is one of the smartest boxes we have seen in those parts for a long time. He is also a devastating puncher at short range and it is my guess that Fraser would have been much further behind the score sheet, had that Mr. Right hand been working for Winnie.

WONDERFUL FELLOWS

The conduct of all the visiting companies was truly the exemplary at all times, however. If I had to pick one team or group above others I would have to go along with Bert Lowe's contingent from British Columbia. They were true gentlemen both inside and outside of the ring circle. A great credit to their program, however, they all were willing, courageous fighters who fought to the bitter end. They were a typical Navy team. On the other hand they wrote history in Drayton Valley. It was the first time that a group of men walked up and down the mats of this town sporting the royal blue and the ball-topped crowns of the Royal Canadian Navy.

MILK PRODUCTION COSTS

Some interesting research has been done in Utah on the costs of milk production. Most startling of their findings is the great drop in labour per cow as the herd size increases.

Distribution of man labour shows approximately 50% for milking, 15% for feeding, 5% for cleaning barn or parlor and 15% for cleaning equipment. Obtaining feed, preparing feed, bedding the cow and preparing equipment used of the rest of the time. The interesting thing about the studies showed that labour costs varied from 15% to 45% of total costs, and that larger herds had low labour costs per cow.

Herd producing milk with 12 cows or less averaged 147 hours of labour per cow. Herd with 35 cows or more averaged 63 hours of labour per cow, this is a great saving in labour.

Size of herd has three possible effects. It divides the overhead of labour, such as preparing a milking machine and cleaning up after milking over larger numbers. It makes possible and worth while to adopt all the labour saving devices and methods. And it discourages the non-organic productive use of labour, such as excessive grooming, pampering and admiring the animals.

These figures show in part at least why we are seeing increasing specialization in this district, and why those with only a few of each of many types of livestock are having a tough time making end meat.

EVERY FARMER'S BUSINESS

Tractor safety is every farmer's business, every day.

Fatigue and haste are two of the main causes of these accidents. Fatigue that saps the power to reason clearly and react quickly and haste which forces a man to take chances that he knows may have dangerous results. An operator must be on his toes all the time he is operating a farm tractor if he is to prevent an accident. Prevention is basically the only aim of tractor safety.

During the spring operations three types of accidents occur much to frequently. Two of these have to do with tractor tipping and the third is when the operator is crushed by losing control of his tractor while adjusting or hitching an implement. Consider the tipping accidents. Side hill work is often necessary but every precaution must be taken to see that the low wheel doesn't fall into a rut, or the high wheel run over a rock or root. Where wheel width is adjustable both back and front wheels should be set as wide as possible for side hill work. If the wheels are not adjustable it should be remembered that either a narrow gauge or cycloptic tyre steering makes a tractor more unstable on sidehills.

The second type of tipping accident, or tips backwards. This type common cause of this accident is using "bumper load tractor" lashing a log or timber to the drive wheels of the tractor and then attempting to move ahead, in the time it takes for the rear wheels to make one quarter revolution all control of the machine is lost. Other reasons for tipping backwards are hitching too high on the tractor, starting with a jerk or trying to start a heavy load on an uphill grade.

Hitching and adjusting accidents generally cause crushing, although being dragged by the implement is fairly common.

These mishaps are caused by stepping off a moving tractor to adjust a trilled implement, or trying to control a tractor from the ground while hitching a machine. Both these practices are extremely dangerous. The time saved is negligible, don't take a chance - stop and do the job the safe way.

These are only three of the common, seasonal hazards of driving a tractor, and there are numerous others that must be constantly guarded against. Constant vigilance is the passport to tractor safety. The life that is saved will almost certainly be your own. Tractor accidents can happen to you - it is not always the other fellow.

Your MP Dr. Hugh Horner Reports

It has been my privilege to announce recently the awarding of two major contracts on the Banff Jasper Highway in Jasper National Park. I did this on behalf of the Honourable David Walker who as Minister of Public Works is responsible for the construction of the Trans Highway in the National Parks.

The first contract is for work to be done on Mile 105, 5 to mile 110 on the B.V. Highway and includes grading, culvert, laying base course and seal coat. The cost is $1,446,562.40.

The second one covers 16 miles of road on the east side of the Athabasca River from the Town of Jasper south to Athabasca Falls. This contract is for $1,287,76.00 and will be for completion by November 1963.

The new Banff-Jasper Highway is really a tremendous road with 33 feet of pavement and 10 ft.

shoulders. It passes through some of the most exciting scenery in our National Parks.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Dear Mr. Playford:

Before leaving the hospitable town of Drayton Valley I would like to express my appreciation for the kindness shown to Major Ruth, our guests Mr. and Mrs. Jack Smyth, and myself.

Our stay here got away to an excellent start when we arrived at the Drayton Valley Hotel on Wednesday, May 10th and as we presented ourselves at the desk to register we saw your paper "Welcome to Visitors". I assure you it gave us a truly warm "welcome feeling".

During our few days' stay here while our husbands were busy with various things leading up to the Boxing Tournament, Mrs. Smyth and I walked around town and shopped at several places. The salespeople were pleasant, courteous and friendly. We were impressed by the desire to help on the part of salesmen and salesladies, folks in the hotel coffee shop, dining room, and the Postoffice and Telephone office. Every place we went we could not help feeling that Drayton Valley was, indeed, a friendly and agreeable place.

We were taken on a couple of drives throughout the beautiful rolling hills surrounding your flourishing town and learned some thing about the magnitude of the oil fields of Drayton Valley. We took pictures and movies so that we may have a lasting record of our visit here.

Would you, through the columns of your paper, express our most sincere thanks to all those who contributed so much to making our visit such a happy holiday?

And may we become subscribers to your very interesting and readable paper?

Sincerely,
Kathleen Roth
(Mrs. P. L. Roth)

EDITOR'S NOTE:

Thank you, Mrs. Roth, for these kind words. We will put you on the subscribers list.

ion is the person of Harvey Best who took the 147 lb. Canadian title with three thrilling victories over Harvey Mills, "Curly" Adams and Manfred Maliberg.

The hot province of Alberta had two champions when the last semi-final fight night, Honore Healy of the Canadian Blood Reserve carried away the Bantam weight title while Jerry Palmer, the Tyke from Vulcan is the new Flyweight champion of all amateur fighters in Canada. The "Old War Horse" Gerald Kilduff of Edmonton came close when he lost a split decision to another fine B.C. fighter Alton Bennett in the 160 pound final.

All in all it was a great show, well run off, featuring plenty of incomparable fight action. Once again it was the merit of an all out community effort.

CHIEFS FOR OUR BAND

We received many compliments on the performance of our band at the Canadian Championships. One May man asked if his band was inspired as he said: "You could never form such a band in this short time - be refused to believe that our boys had only five months of preparation behind them. The band added a great deal of color to the show and was a great credit to the program throughout."

GYMKHANA NEWS

BY: Steve

A meeting was held last Thursday, May 11th at the Legion Hall with a very good attendance of members, new members and prospective members. A tentative program of events was filed up to be presented as the Evening Performance at this year's rodeo.

This past Sunday afternoon a number of riders gathered at the Rodeo grounds and ran three some barrel racing, pole bending and a variety of races. A good number of spectators were on hand and seemed to enjoy the afternoon's activities. The club wishes to thank the people on hand who assisted us at time - keepers etc.

There will be another meeting this Thursday evening, May 18th at the Legion Hall at 7:30 p.m. It is hoped we will have as good an attendance as last week. It was stated in last week's article in this paper that we were in need of associate members, this need is still great, surely there must be people around who are interested in seeing the promotion of better home ownership and sportsmanship, who could give as much or no of their time to help us. We are in need of an arena car, time keepers, announcers. They must be field judges, arena judges, all we would like to see some of the mothers of our Junior members join to work with the social conveyor. It was also requested last week that anyone having a truck with a rack, who would be willing on days of events in assisting us by moving a horse, we would certainly appreciate hearing from them.

This coming Sunday, May 21st, we are planning another Gymkhana meet. If you didn't see it last Sunday, ask someone who did. It is a good way to pass a couple of hours. This meet will be held at the present club ground 1 mile north of Rocky Rapids. Starts on the west side of the road. Events should get underway about 3:00 P.M. and continue all afternoon. It is hoped there will be refreshments available on the grounds.

We certainly hope to see a good number of riders and spectators. We would like to think the people of Drayton Valley area are behind us.

1961 CENSUS

LANGUAGE PROBLEMS MET BY CENSUS.

Language barriers will be leaped successfully when census takers visit Canadian homes beginning June 1.

In recent decades, Canada has attracted immigrants from almost every country in the world. The majority of New Canadians learn English or French soon after setting foot on Canadian soil. But many - especially the older members of ethnic groups - are still able to understand only a limited amount of either language.

To help the flow of communication between census takers and those who speak little English or French a three-pronged solution is planned: selection of census takers who speak the language the use of interpreters, and translation of census documents into ethnic tongues.

Languages encountered by census takers will vary from one part of Canada to another. Vancouver for example, has several thousand Chinese residents. To help communicate them, the population census form is being translated, as in 1951 and 1956. And interpreters who speak the Cantonese and Mandarin dialects of Chinese will be hired. Elsewhere in British Columbia, Russian interpreters will be called into play, interpreters will also be employed for Italians.

Western Canada, and especially Alberta, is an area of widely scattered people of many origins including Ukrainian, German and Chinese. In each case, commissions obtain the census takers best qualified, both by language and background, to cover their respective areas.

Alberta also has it flatterings (Cont', page 11, Col. 1)

THE OTHER SIDE OF GOD

What is God like? This is a question that is as old as man himself. Men have always wished to know Him, said Job of "Old and although it may be put in different words it is the question of men in every generation.

Perhaps you have a portrait of God, of course this will be limited or distorted for infinite God can not be fully comprehended by finite man, nor His characteristics placed in a definition.

There are even some people who deny the existence of God, but these are many more to-day who are living under the persuasion that they are clever enough to get along without Him. It seems that to many, that God can give us, but we do not want Him to meddle with our affairs. A friend once said Daniel Webster, "what is the most solemn thought that you have ever had? Webster replied: "The most solemn thought that I have ever had is that I am responsible to God." The spirit of our day is to live just far enough away from God so that we may do as we please.

Jesus who came to show us the Father, reveals God as one who sees, hears, and knows all. This "does away with the idea that God is a "Grand old man", who overlooks our mistakes, our neglects, and our willfulness. The coming of our soul might try to make us believe this but it is not true. The Devil causes men to presume upon the love of God. He tries to make men believe that God is a God of love (and so He is) but in the polychrome they say there is no punishment. They say God is merciful, that He is too compassionate to punish anyone. He causes men to make light of sin and to play with holy things.

We need to live in the spaciousness of the other side God which Christ calls to our attention in His teachings and especially in our text which reveals His powerful leap or cast away.

"But I will warn you whom to fear: Fear Him which after he hath killed the body, he is able to cast into hell: Yea, I tell you, Fear him! Luke 12:5 "Do not fear those who kill the body, but fear Him who can kill the soul." Fear Him who can kill the soul. Fear Him who can kill the soul. Fear Him who can kill the soul.

The word "fear" has a two fold meaning to be afraid of, and awe or reverence. From Christ's teachings we are told to live in awe and reverence before God and we are not to be afraid of those who oppose God.

It is God who has all power. He is power over life and death. He has power to limit the actions of men and to thwart the power of Satan. If this were not true Satan would have claimed the whole world and carried it away for redemption, but God cannot the head of the serpent in His greatest manifestation of power.

We need to-day the impact of beholding God, as Isaiah experienced when he saw the Lord. The effect of this vision on Isaiah caused him to exclaim: "Woe is me! for I am undone." With our lips we confess, "I believe in God the Father Almighty," but the fruit of God's fear are missing in our lives. We need to consider the other side of God which Jesus called to our attention when He said, "I will warn you whom to fear." Not a slavish fear that would cause us to crouch before the unlimited power of God, but in Christ a child like fear so that our true love to Him we strive against those things within and without that would displease our Father.

The Apostle Paul had the other side of God in mind when he wrote, "Behold therefore the goodness and severity of God" Rom. 11:22

He uses the chosen people Israel to illustrate. God had revealed Himself to them in many ways. They knew the truth, but chose to walk in their own sinful ways. And because of their unbelief they were broken off. God spared not the natural branches but allowed them to be over run by pagans. And to be sure, they were not high minded, but fear..... take heed lest he also spare not thee. Rom. 11:20-21

The love and mercy of God is the great theme of the Christian faith. The very core of the Gospel in that God has provided for givenness for all our sin. As we dwell on this glorious theme let us not forget the other side of God. The devil is busy seeking to thwart God's plan of salvation by causing many to-day to presume upon the love that we see through such lengths to redeem us. Surely the God of love will not punish those who, but if men have no fear of God, and no place in their lives for Christ his Son, God will punish. This is as evident as the rule of sowing and reaping. Fear God (Love, respect, reverence Him) and live.

Requested the patient, "Doctor, if there is anything wrong with me, don't fight me half to death by giving it a long scientific name. Just tell me in plain English."

"Well," the doctor replied hesitantly, "to be perfectly frank, you are just plain lazy."

"Thank you, doctor," murmured the patient. "Now give me the scientific name so I can tell the family."

Maybe our young people aren't getting married too early these days, but at a recent wedding in Los Angeles the best man was the groom's pediatrician.

Although it is generally believed that men are more prone to crime, there are an awful lot of women who put a piece of candy back after taking a bite to see what's in it.

D V FIRE DEPARTMENT

Ron Quinn is correspondent for the Fire Department. Drivers are Walter Diener, Stan Schleck, and Rodi Menchell. Fire Chief is Don Greiner, Assistant Fire Chief is Floyd Alandred, Charlie Twissel and Larry Gano are Captains. Fire Chief Don Greiner started as a fireman five years ago and then was assistant fireman chief, then when Cur Clausen resigned as Fire Chief Don took over, first as acting Fire Chief and then he was appointed as fulltime Fire Chief. He attended the Provincial Fire Chiefs Convention at Calgary three years ago and learned a considerable amount about Fire Fighting and Fire Control and very important, Fire Prevention.

Last year there were fifty-four fires, some quite serious, some minor, within the Town of Drayton Valley. The companies for which the fire department has at very good record in the speed at which they answer the fire call. Though they are paid a very nominal sum while on fire duty most of their practices are, are on their own time. The companies for whom the boys work are to be commended at letting them drop whatever they might be doing at the instant the fire alarm rings to answer the fire call.

The new telephone fire alarm is quite elaborate. Seven phones are distributed at strategic places around town and when the fire call is sent in it rings in at all seven places at the same time. The seven places are: The Police Station, the Fire Hall, the home of Chief Greiner, the home of Assistant Chief Allanbrand, and the homes of Captains Genor and Twissel. The seventh phone ring at the home of Driven Stan Schleck, who lives close to the fire hall. The phone hookup is a party-line setup and all seven ring at once and all can listen in for directions as to the location of the fire, etc. Anytime of the seven can help the fire men, when necessary.

An unusual thing happened a few weeks ago when the alarm system was short-circuited and the fire alarm kept blaring with no fire on hand. An electrician was sent along the line, and he

PLEBISCITE VOTE

On May 31st, Wednesday a vote of the proprietary electors of the Town of Drayton Valley will be held in the town council chambers from 10:00 a.m. until 7:00 p.m. This plebiscite, if passed will authorize the purchase of some 32 acres of land, partially in the town limits, to be developed for sports and recreational purposes. The land under consideration lies on the east side of the highway and so will be readily accessible, without having to cross the highway.

at an attractive figure, but which may not be so readily obtained at a later date.

The Town of Drayton Valley, with the hiring of a full time recreational director has made a good step toward taking care of the leisure time of all individuals and the purchase of this property will enable the program to be more fully developed for the benefit of all concerned.

On Tuesday evening immediately preceding the plebiscite a meeting for proprietary electors will be held in the Community Hall to discuss the plebiscite. This meeting will be held at 8:00 o'clock.

BUILDING PERMITS

An expenditure of only three mills on the levy will be required to purchase and develop the property, which is now available
